

Exhibit B

Selected Photographs

Photo 1 – China Town YMCA Picnic 8/16/2018. Note the stone sculptures in the background. Care is taken with the grass, landscaping, and art - belying the EAS' description of the Elizabeth Street Garden as a vacant lot.

Photo 2 – China Town YMCA Picnic 8/16/2018. There is ample space in shade, which is useful during in August when temperatures in the City are typically 75 to 85 degrees Fahrenheit.

Photographs

Photo 3 – China Town YMCA Picnic 8/16/2018. The calm within the Garden is in stark contrast to the traffic in teh background of this photo.

Photo 4 – China Town YMCA Picnic 8/16/2018. The Garden is an oasis of green, open space in a city of concrete, asphalt, and brick.

Photographs

Photo 5 – Inspired Word NYC 7/15/2018. Sunlight is visible in the foreground, though in July, visitors choose to sit in the shade.

Photo 6 – Live Music Sunday 6/18/2018. Visitors have room to spread out amongst the trees, sculptures, and statuary.

Photographs

Photo 7 – Father's Day 6/17/2018. Young people enjoy the Garden.

Photo 8 – Shake Rattle n' Roll w Mulberry St Public Library 6/19/2018. Community members with young children sit in the grass. The children enjoy stories, but there is plenty of art in the Garden to capture the adults' eyes.

Photographs

Photo 9 – Shake Rattle n’ Roll w Mulberry St Public Library 6/19/2018. The Garden is visible from the adjacent streets, and is part of the neighborhood fabric.

Photo 10 – PS 130 (The Parkside School 130 Brooklyn, NY) came to visit to learn about seeds on 5/25/2018.

Photographs

Photo 11 – PS 130 (The Parkside School 130 Brooklyn, NY) came to visit to learn about seeds 5/25/2018

Photo 12 – PS 130 (The Parkside School 130 Brooklyn, NY) students add their own touches to the Garden.

Photographs

Photo 13 – PS 130 (The Parkside School 130 Brooklyn, NY) students, teachers, and volunteers gather for a group photo.

Photo 14 – Tai Chi 4/28/2018. The Garden caters to a visitors who span a wide range of ages. Note that the sunlight and the ability to gather large groups will both be lost if the With-Action condition comes to pass.

Photographs

Photo 15 – Warm from Within 12/2/2017. The Garden offers a relatively quiet spot in the City.

Photo 16 – Harvest Fest 10/2/2017. The Garden's sculptures and statues are sturdy enough to offer "rides" to small children.

Photographs

Photo 17 – Harvest Fest 10/2/2017. A small part of a large community gathering.

Photo 18 – Harvest Fest 10/2/2017. The Harvest Fest events typically draw hundreds of City residents. Note that the proposed narrow open space that will be left after the Haven Green development will not have the capacity or line-of-sight to host such large gatherings.

Photographs

Photo 19 – Harvest Fest 10/2/2017. As with several other events, the Garden brings together young and old.

Photo 20 – Jivamukti Toga NYC Fernanda De La Puenta 6/17/2017. The Garden provides room to spread out yoga mats.

Photographs